The Changing Nature of Family and Marriage in Contemporary Iran
Friday November 3, 2017 9:00am-6:00pm
UCSB Iranian Studies Initiative
Loma Pelona Center, University of California – Santa Barbara

An international conference with papers on love, cohabitation, marital commitment, sex education, reproductive politics, and child prostitution

The conference will feature live performances by:

Gordafarid, first female naqqal (storyteller) of Iran’s national epic Shahnameh
Ziba Shirazi, writer, singer, songwriter, and storyteller
Bahram Osquezadeh (Ph.D UCSB), soloist, composer, and conductor

This event is organized with support from: American Institute of Iranian Studies (AIIS), Baha’i Institute of Higher Education (BIHE), Center for Middle East Studies, Cross Cultural Research and Educational Institute (CREI), Department of Religious Studies, Duncan and Suzanne Mellichamp Funds, Ahmad Gramian & Haleh Emrani Foundation