The Model Arab League is structured much as the Model United Nations program except that it replicates the Arab League, and therefore only the Arab countries. By participating in MAL you will learn about the Arab Middle East, how to participate in parliamentary-style debate, how to draft resolutions on various issues, and how to negotiate the passage of your resolutions through the appropriate committee and on to a full vote in the General Assembly.

This is a great resume-building activity for anyone considering a career dealing with the Middle East, as well as in Global Studies, Political Science, Development, Law, the Foreign Service and many other careers. It will also look very good to graduate programs if you are planning on continuing on to a Master's and/or a Ph.D.

The organization meeting will be held on Wednesday, January 6, at 5 pm in the Religious Studies department conference room (HSSB 3041).
