The UCSB MultiCultural Center Presents

RACE MATTERS SERIES

AMERICAN MUSLIMS AND THE REFORM OF ISLAM

ZAREENA GREWAL

This talk is based on ten years of research for Prof. Grewal’s book Islam is a Foreign Country, which explores how the question of who defines Islam today is intertwined with American Muslim’s identity as a national religious minority and as part of the umma, a global majority.

Dr. Grewal is associate professor of American Studies and Religious Studies at Yale University.
